Environmentally Friendly

The future of the earth is debated a lot these days. Global warming is at the front of that debate. Is global warming caused by man and his actions, or is it simply a normal occurrence on the timeline of God's plan for the earth and man. We may never know the answer until after we leave here and are with him. However, the Bible does say,

The earth is the LORD'S, and all its fullness,
The world and those who dwell therein (Psalms 21:1)

Knowing that the earth belongs to God is all we need to know to understand that we need to be good stewards of the earth. Being good stewards means being environmentally careful.

The Darda's theme, Environmentally Friendly, has a double meaning, a deeper meaning than simply save the planet. You see, the scripture above also says "the world and those who dwell therein." That word group means not only the planet, but also mankind. So we should also be good stewards of each other. Spiritually we need to create an environment so that those around us can flourish in their Christian walk as they pursue their education. For those who do not know God, the environment we create should point them toward God.

It is very evident when we walked onto Trevecca's campus for the first time that we walked into such an environment. It is an environment of people, staff, and professors who care for, nourish, and encourage students spiritually, physically, and mentally. Trevecca allows us to develop in an environment that is not just ecologically environmentally friendly but also spiritually environmentally friendly. It is an environment free of some of the world's pollution that ruins the lives of some college students before they ever graduate.

It is only because of the good stewardship of those that have gone before us that we have such an opportunity. We know we can't save our own lives or even the planet. Both of these are in God's hands. However, while we are on earth we can do our part to help make Trevecca environmentally friendly for all who follow.

It's Not Easy Being Green

The generation pictured in this Darda grew up with a frog-friend named Kermit. His croaking best-seller was a song that lamented "It's not easy being green." He was singing about the chromatic reality of his frogness. Maybe Kermit was a prophet because the political tenor of our world is debating the necessity of "being environmentally green."

Trevecca students have reached the conclusion that members of the Trevecca community are called to be good neighbors in the world and to take care of our little plot of turf in a way that blesses our neighbors. This means that we recycle, conserve energy, and think carefully about what we put in the ground. It also means that we restore our old campus buildings that are energy hogs and high-cost utility consumers. To this end, Trevecca has renovated the Adams Building, the McClurkan Building, the Bud Robinson Building (Center for Leadership, Calling, and Service), replaced windows in all the women's dorms, renovated the bathrooms in the men's dorms, and restored the labs in the Greathouse Science Building. By taking what is old and making it useful again with new energy efficient capacity, Trevecca is being green.

But the effort to be green doesn't stop there. We want Trevecca to be a green environment for our neighbors. We want them to experience Trevecca as welcoming, thriving, growing, fruitful, generous, alive, sharing, and caring—in a word, green. The life that is blooming fresh from God grows in us. When our nearest neighbors come around, we hope there is plenty Christian fruit to feed them. From children in the neighborhood, to public housing friends, to the retired folk living in the Towers, we want to be the kind of place where life is experienced.

While the rest of the world may find it hard to be green, we find it to be the most normal thing a Christian can do.

With appreciation to the Gospel According to Kermit,

Dan Boone

Dedication

Chris Farrell, PhD

Your care for all of creation inspires us.

After graduating with a degree in chemistry from Eastern Nazarene College in 1961, Chris Farrell earned a PhD in chemical biochemistry from Ohio State University in 1971. Hours after his dissertation was approved, Farrell, his wife and their two toddlers moved to South Africa, where he worked in the lab at Ethel Lucas Memorial Hospital in Acornhoek, six hours outside of Johannesburg.

When they returned to the States, Farrell did research and development for a commercial lab in Boston for a year and a half. Then he settled into a job at a hospital lab in Steubenville, Ohio, near his wife's parents, where Farrell and his wife stayed for the next twenty years, raising their four children.

Toward the end of his time in Ohio, he spent a few years as a bi-vocational pastor in a small Church of the Nazarene.

He came to Trevecca in 1995 as assistant professor of chemistry. During his years at Trevecca, he has taught in the Department of Science and Math, the PA Program, and the Social Justice Program. He recently added more creative ventures—the aquaponics tanks in which he grows tilapia and greens in the greenhouse year-round and starting community gardens in Chestnut Hill and some nearby public schools.

In addition to their four children, Farrell and his wife, Judy, six grandchildren who are a constant source of amusement and amazement. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last fall.

Welcome Week 2011

Welcome Week is a great time when returning students get to welcome the newest students to the Trevecca community. Fun games and exciting events help spread the joy of being back on campus, for residents and commuters alike. Welcome Week is truly one of the most memorable parts of the year that shapes many student's outlook on the upcoming semester.

On Caddyshock Tuesday, students dress up in their wackiest golf outfits as far as a night of miniature golfing at Grand Ole Golf.

Music and Arts Festival

Boonearoo was an exciting event to conclude a great school year, and it showcased many local bands and musicians. The event also presented an arts and crafts fair with 20 booths of student artwork and handcrafted items. Students also enjoyed climbing a rock wall, and buying food from food trucks with cupcakes, snack food, and soft drinks. Local musician, Chase Coy (left), presents his music styling at the second

Homecoming 2011

Homecoming 2011 began with the Thursday night crowning of the Trevecca Homecoming Court. Founder's Day Chapel, on Friday morning, was the first homecoming event for alumni, and then the annual event went into full swing. Friday afternoon activities included an art exhibit, the dedication of the Alumni Center, the parade, dinner in a tent, an outdoor festival, and the presentation of "A Light on the Hill." It was a weekend filled with wonderful memories.

Homecoming 2011

It is sad to see all of the alumni leave at the end of the week. Homecoming is not simply a fun week for everyone on campus and for returning alumni. The weekend is a chance for students to get a glimpse into the future and see people doing what they were called to do here at Trevecca. It is an encouragement to current students to see the careers and lives our alumni have built outside of Trevecca, and we can only imagine how the years spent here will shape our futures as we have seen them shaped alumni before us.

CJ Childs and Zoey Baker are excited as they wait for Jon Foreman to come on stage.

Friday Night

Live

The most anticipated event each year at Trevecca is the comedic night of Friday Night Live. Students show their creative and humorous sides as they perform skits and musical numbers. This year's host was Nate Kerr, a Trevecca religion professor. The event, presented by Trevecca's student government, was filled with laughter and fun as the audience saw responded with enjoyment.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet

This year's junior class council hosted the junior-senior banquet that at the vintage home, Lillie Belles, located in historic downtown Franklin, Tenn. The theme for the banquet centered around Victorian style decor, which included mason jar drinking glasses and fine china tea cups. Students enjoyed dinner and having their photographs taken in front of a backdrop of hanging lanterns and painted picture frames. The night concluded with the awarding of senior superlatives and a delicious dessert of assorted cupcakes.

Commencement

Class of 2012

There is much to be celebrated when last days of school arrive. The annual commencement ceremonies excited students and their families as seniors are handed their diplomas from President Dan Boone.

This year's ceremonies featured Jim Hiatt, dean of the School of Business, as the inspirational speaker. Graduating seniors Kathleen Dunn and Carly Moore performed the hymn "Be Thou My Vision." The commencement ceremony concluded with awarding the Citizenship Award to senior Rebekah Dunn and an honorary doctorate degree to Greg Mason, superintendent of the Louisiana and Mississippi Districts of the Church of the Nazarene.

The commencement ceremony begins after the 840 graduates and the faculty are seated. (above)

Immersion: Bulgaria and Romania

Going to Romania this summer was an amazing experience that I never expected to have in my life. I'm a graphic design major in the business department. Business majors don't spend three months in a foreign country; that experience is for religion and missions majors, or even social work majors, but not for business majors. That's what I thought before I went to Sighisoara, Romania, with the Immerse Program. This summer taught me a lot about myself and especially showed me that I don't have to be planning to move to another country after I graduate to "be in ministry." My ministry is the life that I live day in and day out; it is in my designing and how I treat the people around me, not something reserved for those who decide to move to a foreign country and preach after they graduate.

"Visiting and living in Razgrad, Bulgaria, was difficult at times, but it taught me so much about myself. My four new teammates and I were able to attend English classes, help create a local VBS with our home church, and be part of the national VBS as well. From the people whom I met, to getting to know my fellow TNU friends better, it was a summer I will never forget."

about God's plans and the people I have come in contact with, months after returning home."

"My summer in Romania was a step of faith in God and his plan for me. Even now, I am continuing to stretch my thinking

"We spent a lot of time with the Roma population, which I considered the single most oppressed people group in the world. It was such a blessing because even through the pain and struggle, they are still people, and that is what matters. They are beautiful people God blessed me so much this summer. It had been my prayer since we came home that I would never forget anything that he showed me during that experience. If all goes well, I want to move back after I graduate in May."

Dr. Job had recently taken a page add in all the newspapers in India offering to take any girls that were unwanted. He has been the president of Voice of Martyrs India for 30 years and has preached in more than 120 countries. The International Biographical Centre, Cambridge, United Kingdom nominated Dr. Job as "International Man of the Year" for 2000 - 2001. He has a medical clinic in New Delhi with 300 employees; all of the medical services are free for the poor.

Summer TAG Trip: India

In the summer of 2011 a Trevecca team traveled to India in order to provide a week of VBS to more than 500 girls at the Michael Job Center for Orphan Girls in Coimbatore, India. P. P. Job, Center director, has adopted more than 800 girls and is rearing and educating them—girls who were rejected by their families who wanted sons. Each year parents in India kill many girls because girls are burdens to a family; families must provide a dowry to a daughter's future husband, but sons receive dowries and can provide security for aging parents. Thus, sons embody the hope of parents, and girls are thrown away like human trash. Dr. Job rescues these unwanted girls and gives them hope for their future. He has built a college for them, where they can earn a dual degree, one that is accepted in India and also in the United States.

The Trevecca team, composed of all females, was accompanied by professors Bryce Fox and Roy Philip and Fox's daughter Brielle, age 11. The team conducted VBS in the morning for half of the girls and an afternoon VBS for the other half. The days also included time for music, for teaching soccer, and for hanging out with the girls. This team is the first from Trevecca to visit India.

Chapel

The environment of Trevecca is one that is based on biblical values and Scripture. Trevecca inspires the student body in these biblical beliefs through chapel experiences.

This year Trevecca invited several speakers to share their testimonies and spiritual insight to the students of Trevecca. Special guests to chapels included George Williams, Suzie Shellenberger, and Senator Elizabeth Dole.

Tim Green, university chaplain, begins the year with a focus on the theme of reconciliation. (above)

Campus Ministries

Being environmentally friendly at a Christian university goes beyond being a good steward of the earth. At Trevecca, its being part of a body of Christian believers who want to build an environment of compassion and relationship in others' lives.

Each year Trevecca offers many opportunities for students to become involved in campus ministries that work to build their relationship with God, with students on campus, and with people off campus. Through campus ministry efforts students helped at TWIOG, KidPOWER, Room in the Inn, and the Trevecca Towers.

The new club, Turning the World Inside Out with God (TWIOG) inspired students to dive deeper into their relationships with God. TWIOG was named the Club of the Year for members' dedication to helping the student body make a difference in deepening relationships with each other and with Christ.

TWIOG sponsored and host several all-school worship nights throughout the year, inviting students to join them in ministering campus-wide.

KidPOWER was a big success this year because Trevecca students worked with children from the communities surrounding Trevecca. The children, many of them coming from the inner city, were introduced to a student mentor who hungout, played, and studied with that child.

Members of TWIOG pose with the club-of-the-year award, which they won for their exceptional contributions to campus life.

By the end of the year, Trevecca students had formed many close relationships with the children from KidPOWER. Next year KidPOWER hopes to continue to change the lives of these kids with the help of Trevecca's student mentors.

The Trevecca 2011 Freshman LEAP Class participated in an effort to clean Brown's Creek, which runs behind the campus. This project lasted all day. Students worked hard to preserve the natural plant and wildlife that lives along Brown's Creek.

Some students help paint walls and furniture in a newly remodeled church building.

Students work together to pick up debris and trash and dispose of it.

Trevecca offers several service projects in which students can participate. These service projects help students develop service skills and a servant heart. Additionally, students gain leadership skills.

Spring TAG Trip: Jamaica

This year's group of students partnered with a ministry group from Maryland in their ministry efforts in Jamaica. While in Jamaica, the Trevecca team visited five elementary and middle schools to conduct devotions. Team members were able to share their testimonies, lead worship, and pray for the Jamaican students. The Trevecca TAG team also visited an infirmary for the aged, a nursing home type facility for those who cannot care for themselves or do not have family to do so. The team offered encouragement and fed residents a hot meal. Many students reported that the people to whom they came to minister were the ones to minister to them. The experience was a humbling one, because several residents were unable to hear or see, and many had other physical infirmities.

Trevecca students also worked at the Gamertsfelder Mission Center (GMC), which included a clinic, a compassionate ministry center, and a church. Work at the GMC included moving cinder blocks, laying tile, and painting.

The TAG Team also supported Elasha Spring Fest, a beach outreach ministry to individuals who vacation in Jamaica during spring break. Team members participated in Family Fun Day activities playing soccer and volleyball, swimming, and inviting people on the beach to come to the Grand Gospel Concert that evening.

Michelle Nicole Bergman

MAJOR: Mathematics education

HOMETOWN: Martin, Tenn.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Member of Wind Ensemble and Jazz Band, RHA chaplain of Georgia Hall, RHA president of women's apartments, STEA president

FUTURE PLANS: I will participate in the 5th year education master's program, which will include taking summer classes and having a year-long internship in a Metro school. I then plan to follow God's call on my life wherever that may take me.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Freshman year my hall went ice skating though only 4 of us went. We were sitting on the sideline resting while video-taping peoples' reactions before they fell to the ground. Jenna, an RA, said, "I want to belly slide like a penguin." A few minutes later, Jenna hit a slick spot while skating, fell flat on her stomach, and belly slid like a penguin. I never laughed so hard in my life!

Derek Willard Brinkman

MAJOR: Financial mathematics

HOMETOWN: Old Hickory, Tenn.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Men's Service Society vice president and intramural sports participant

FUTURE PLANS: I want to stay in the Nashville area and get a job as an actuary when I graduate.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Billiards

Rebekah Ann Dunn

MAJOR: Dramatic arts

HOMETOWN: Newnan, Ga.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: RHA hall representative and secretary; officer- SGA jr. and sr. social life and ASB student services; participant in dramatic arts program, A.R.T. Club, student recruitment team, and summer ministry team

FUTURE PLANS: I want to obtain a master's degree in art administration and become a stage manager for a professional theater company. I also want to help develop art programs in inner city schools.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: I think my favorite memory would have to be the freshman-year Glow with the Flow event. It was a great event with no age classifications or social group barriers. Everyone just enjoyed having fun with glow sticks. This event made me want to become a part of campus life.

Dana Marie Franchetti

MAJOR: Religion

HOMETOWN: Pekin, Ill.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Peer mentor, yearbook editor, member of class councils, and participant in Immerse trips

FUTURE PLANS: I want to become a pastor in the inner city, but until then, I am looking at graduate school, traveling to wonderful places, and just going wherever the wind blows me.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: My junior year, Evans Knowles, Katelyn Hayes, and I got into my car at midnight and drove to Chicago. We spent the day there, slept a few hours at Olivet then drove back. It was so much fun and spontaneous. It was a good summary of my college experience filled with fun random adventures and people who are my dearest friends.

Rachel Elizabeth Meredith

MAJOR: Organizational communication

HOMETOWN: Crestwood, Ky.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: TIA volleyball player, peer mentor, tutor, piano accompanist, participant in Trevecca Towers crochet group, volunteer for Trevecca's Association of Business Professionals

FUTURE PLANS: I am exploring positions in corporate communication and Christian ministry.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: I will never forget the annual tradition of getting donuts with a couple of friends during spring finals. We would celebrate the end of exams and studying by getting Dunkin' Donuts and eating them in Olivet Cemetery, reminding us that finals were not the end of the world!

Todd Michael Osborne

MAJOR: English

HOMETOWN: Antioch, Tenn.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: SGA member, staff writer/copy editor of TrevEchoes, managing editor of Cumberland River Review

FUTURE PLANS: Graduate school and teaching English to impressionable minds!

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Road tripping and spending too much time in the cafeteria.

Jordan Lisa Roberts

MAJOR: Elementary education

HOMETOWN: Brooklyn, Ind./ West Palm Beach, Fla.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Intramural sports, RA in Georgia Hall, co-leader of a M.E.R.G.E. group, Gospel Choir, Kings Kids

FUTURE PLANS: Participate in 5th year education master's program and teach English to non-native students

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Freshman year, Carissa Lin and I locked our suitemate, Lauren Johnson, in the bathroom for 20 minutes at 11 pm. She poured out all of our shampoo and body wash to make us unlock the door. She then proceeded to bang and scream until the RA came to let her out. Her roommate, Charly Ritchie, slept through the whole ordeal and left her in there. Although we play jokes on each other sometimes, we have continued to be great friends. I know I will have lasting friendships with my friends for my whole life.

Kathryn Clara Schimmelpfennig

MAJOR: Mass communication

HOMETOWN: Cleveland, Ohio

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Editor-in-chief of TrevEchoes, staff writer for the Micah Mandate, SGA member

FUTURE PLANS: To work for a newspaper in Nashville, Tenn.; Cleveland, Ohio; or Austin, Texas, with a strong online presence. I'm going to be a real journalist!

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Producing my first TrevEchoes as editor-in-chief! Everything from having my first staff meeting, to editing with Amy Taylor, and staying up way past my bedtime to finish layouts with Dana Franchetti and Kylie Westmorland. After I finished the first issue and sent it to the printers, I went back to my apartment and celebrated with my wonderful roommates! I was so excited I couldn't sleep.

Daniel Jordan Smith

MAJOR: Religion

HOMETOWN: Hermitage, Tenn.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Student body chaplain, TIA champion, participant in Immerse Bulgaria 2011

FUTURE PLANS: I plan to get married, serve a two-year commitment for Teach America in North Carolina, and continue the wonderful journey of serving the Lord until the end of my days.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: My favorite memories would be mattress sliding behind a car during Snow Fest 2011, Billiards 2011, cold dessert, and eating ice cream sundaes on top of Greathouse Science building.

Joshua Philip Smith

MAJOR: Business administration

HOMETOWN: East Peoria, Ill.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Resident assistant for three years, a part of ESA and a handful of vocal ensembles

FUTURE PLANS: I plan to apply to Nashville businesses, including the Chamber of Commerce, where I currently intern; rent an apartment in Chesnut Hill neighborhood; and pursue a master's degree in data mining or business administration.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: My freshman year when Jon Foreman played a concert at TCC; he needed someone to hold up the lyrics for a song he was playing. My heart leaped because I was standing directly in front of him; I quickly volunteered. A picture of me distinctly holding out the music ended up in the Darda that year. I still have the guitar pick that he gave me at the end of the show.

Erin Rose Tillson

MAJOR: Commercial music

HOMETOWN: Wilmore, Ky./Slemani, Iraq

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Women in Ministry treasurer, and participant in Merge, Big Brothers Big Sisters, Choral Union, Lab Band, Jazz Band, Guitar Ensemble, International Students Association, Ladies' Fitness Challenge, admissions and music departments student worker

FUTURE PLANS: Making homemade bread and yogurt, holding babies, attempting dolma, reading good books, writing songs, washing feet, and laughing at the future for it's not yet set in stone.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: Playing Frisbee during finals week, prayer walks around campus, beholding a glimpse of the magnificence of God at Myrtle Beach while on tour with the Jazz Band, becoming an extrovert while developing deep friendships.

Tanner Franklin Webb

MAJOR: Psychology

HOMETOWN: Mt. Juliet, Tenn.

ACTIVITIES/POSITIONS AT TNU: Men's Service Society president

FUTURE PLANS: I want to earn a doctorate in clinical psychology and work as a therapist and/or a professor.

FAVORITE TNU MEMORY: My favorite memory would be the conversations that were held in Suite 204.

How has Trevecca's environment changed you?

"What I love about Trevecca's environment is that it encourages students to step out and serve. This serving can come through service projects or simple things like recycling on campus! It is an environment that encourages students to think past themselves and about others and their surroundings."

How has Trevecca's environment shaped you?

"The Trevecca environment is definitely something unique. It shapes us, challenges us, and brings us into an awareness of the condition of the people and world around us. Trevecca asks us if we are willing to pour out who we are for the betterment of the world and the furthering of God's kingdom. My experiences at Trevecca have solidified my focus to care for all of his creation."

Entering the Final Chapter...

Each year, juniors end the year with the excitement and anticipation of beginning the final chapter of their story here at Trevecca. As their senior year quickly approaches, a few juniors shared with us what they are most excited about.

ONE OF THE GIRLS

"In my upcoming senior year, I'm looking forward to seeing what God has in store for my life, working for the Metro Police Department, making friends, and just being surrounded by a community of love and support. It will truly be the best year ever!"

Jeanette Whatley

ONE OF THE GIRLS

"When reflecting on the notion of being a senior, I can hardly believe it. Trevecca has equipped me with knowledge to succeed not only on an academic level, but also on a social level. I believe that as a senior class we will leave the world better than how we found it. Every day is a blessing. So for these last days being a Trevecca student, I cannot express the joy it brings to be spending them in this community of believers and lifelong friends."

Ashley Huber

ONE OF THE GUYS

"I am looking forward to my history classes with my amazing professors Brett Armstrong and Leroy Pepper. I am also looking forward to continuing to participate in the RHA or becoming an RA for Benson Hall. Ultimate Frisbee and Flag Football with TIA are among the top of my list. Of course with senior year comes graduation, so that is what I am looking forward to the most. However, I will miss all the wonderful friends and memories I have made here at Trevecca."

Daniel Kellogg

ONE OF THE GIRLS

"I am most excited about the opportunity to use the knowledge that I have acquired over the last three years through my student teaching and creative writing courses. I am also excited to see my friends and me enjoy fruits of our labor and hard work and to see where God will lead me in my walk with him in the upcoming year."

How has Trevecca's environment shaped you?

"A lot of my friends have said the thing they love most about Trevecca's environment is that everyone knows everyone here. For me, that experience has been a little backwards. I went to a small high school where literally everyone knew everyone, but I am learning that is not necessarily a bad thing. In just the few months I have been at Trevecca, I have made much deeper friendships than I ever had back home with classmates I had known for 13 years. While I might not know everyone I pass on the sidewalks, I appreciate the people I do know much more. Trevecca's environment has taught me to value the quality of my friendships, not the quantity or length of time."

Men's and Women's Cross Country

The men's and women's cross country teams, led by team captains Emily Smith for the women and Alex Hall and Mark Michel for the men, started the season with a team camp at Babcock State Park, West Virginia. There they ran up, down, and across grueling terrain and concluded the camp with team-building activities and white-water rafting on the New River. Thrust into the college atmosphere when they returned, the next weekend the runners competed at the Brooks Twilight Classic in Memphis against strong competition on a speedy course. After settling down in weekly workouts and two-a-day practices, the teams finished the season with their debut appearance at the NCCAA National Championships. Emily Husted, Rachel Mudd and Emily Keller took the top three team spots for the women and Chauncey Arner, Spencer Cole, and Cameron Savage won those spots for the men.

Men's Soccer

The Trevecca men's soccer team played an impressive season, beginning with a promising start of 3-2-1 heading into the team's first conference match at Mid-Continent. After a series of wins, the men's team beat St. Catharine and Tennessee Temple (2-0 and 6-0 respectively) to make it to the NCCAA Mid-East Regional Semifinals against Oakland City University in Oakland City, Indiana; however, the men were not able to pull away with victory. In an earlier interview, Trevecca's head coach Danny Leavy commented, "I'm really proud of the guys; they worked hard and did what they had to do, which put us through to the NCCAA Regionals." Through hard teamwork and cooperation, the men were able to finish the season with an overall record of 9-9-1.

The men demonstrated true Trevecca spirit and cooperation this season as well in a fundraiser for an opposing team. Fans, students, and alumni collected and donated shoes of any kind for St. Catharine's mission trip to Costa Rica. The cooperation and teamwork of both teams was a powerful demonstration of true sportsmanship.

The NCCAA released its 2011 Mid-East Men's Soccer All-Region team with Trevecca placing three players on the 14-member squad: junior Jordan Enix; freshman Rodrigo Maciel; and freshman Sisco Maciel. Sophomore Jonathan Baskin was named to the 2011 Capital One Academic All-District Team, a recognition of the nation's top student-athletes. In addition, eight players were honored as TranSouth Scholar-Athletes, one to the First Team All-TranSouth and another to the Second Team All-TranSouth.

Women's Soccer

This year was the women's soccer best regular season in the history of the program—the first time a Trevecca women's soccer team finished with a winning record and the most wins in one season in the history of the program. Included in those wins were victories over sister Nazarene program at Mount Vernon and against the team's most intense rival, nearby Cumberland. Finishing the year with a thrilling 3-2 win on a sudden-death goal in overtime sent the team into the NCAA Regional Tournament. With the win, the women qualified for the NCAA Regional Tournament on November 18 and 19. This year's leading scorer was freshman Brooke Gann with seven goals, followed by junior Lindsey Robinson with six.

The team participated in some significant community outreach projects. Each Saturday, the team went to the Donelson YMCA to play soccer with their "buddies," special-needs children enrolled in a new soccer league called Full-Circle Soccer. Each of the twenty kids was paired with a Trevecca female player; the pairs held hands and played together, and the Trevecca players encouraged and showed them where to go and what to do. "It's been a great thing for both us and them," says head coach Brett Armstrong. "Several of the 'buddies' came to our game with Lyon, and we honored them at halftime by having them come onto the field to receive medals and special recognition." The team also ran a soccer clinic for some local kids from the Youth Life Learning Center, a faith-based afterschool program for lower-income kids and their families. The team has also hosted several local teams of elementary-age girls who come to games to help as ball girls. Afterwards the Trevecca players enjoy spend time with them, hanging out and signing autographs. "We have a really close-knit group of girls who enjoy being together, and I think that unity is reflected in how they play on the field," concluded Coach Armstrong.

Game Highlights

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team rallied around the theme for the year: "Raise the Banner." They went to work to raise their standards of excellence in all aspects: physically as players, mentally as students, socially as connectors/family, and spiritually as persons of more faith.

One of the most memorable games for the women's volleyball team in the 2011 season was the game with Freed Hardeman University (FHU) after they had lost Percy Devereaux to a season-ending knee injury. The team went to FHU without her and won in three sets with two freshmen middle blockers playing in her place. "It is very hard to beat Freed at its home, but we proved that if we play together we can achieve anything," reflected head coach Jayme Crowley.

Almost as memorable was the Union match in which Trevecca's women were up two sets to one and playing in the fourth set with a score of Trevecca - 23 / Union - 22. Trevecca was ready to serve, and the lights went out. The game had to end as a "no contest" because the lights did not come back on in time for the teams to finish the match.

Coach Crowley explains, "In my four year career as coach here, we have never beaten Union, and this time we were going in for the kill when the lights saved them from a loss (in my own heart and mind)!" The team earned a spot in the NCCAA post season play, November 17 and 18 in Oakland City, Indiana.

Men's Basketball

This year, the men's basketball team played hard and finished the season with a final record of 22-12, winning four of its last five games. In March the team was able to beat out Victory University and Tennessee Temple in the NCCAA Mid-East Regionals and continued on to the NCCAA National Championships, placing fifth in nationals overall. The team had some great wins in the general season over Lindsey Wilson and Martin Methodist and at nationals defeated Dallas Baptist University and The Master's College, both key wins for the team. Four players of the men's basketball team received recognition for their athletic achievement this year, including senior Michael France who was recognized as the NCCAA Player of the Year.

As inspirational as the men's team is on the courts, team members are just as inspiring within the community as well. This year the team worked with Habitat for Humanity in the fall and with two elementary schools through programs such as Read Across America. Coach Harris believes the team is dedicated and persevering and commends them on their skills, hard work, and leadership. "The key to any success is secondary leadership," says Harris, and when it comes to Trevecca and its men's basketball team, you find these qualities.

This year the women's basketball team started out the season with a win over Point Loma Nazarene with a score of 54-51. The team, however, had to overcome several challenges before even starting the season and was able to finish with an overall record of 10-18. The roster started with fourteen players. By October the numbers had dropped to nine, and by the start of the first game seven girls were left. An addition at mid-term raised the team number back up to eight players, but shortly thereafter a broken arm put the roster back at seven again. "And that's how we finished our season," commented Coach Van Atta. "I was really proud of our players and the way they handled adversity. I have coached a long time, and I have never had a team face this much adversity in one season."

Within the season, the women's team faced a schedule with four teams ranked in the top ten in the country and seven additional teams that made it to the NAIA National Tournament. However, even with number against them, the girls were able to beat two ranked teams and three games that went into overtime and played in eleven games in which the outcomes could only be decided after the last minute of the game.

In this season alone, the Trojan women demonstrated tremendous strength, courage, and determination through teamwork and survival against the odds. "Our team Bible verses were about faith—faith in God, faith in [self], and faith in each other (Matt 17:20, Ecc 4:9-10). "Our team survived by its strong faith," said Van Atta. "Our coaching staff loves the attitude and the determination of the players on this team!"

Cheerleading

Members of the Trevecca cheerleading squad put their hearts and pom-poms into entertaining and encouraging the basketball teams this year and was able to inspire great achievements even while under hard times themselves. The year started with a squad total of ten girls; however, because of different situations, the team was reduced to five. The remaining members were not discouraged. "The girls were able to continue through the season and came out together as a strong unit to complete the season," stated Coach Mary Lou Del Rio.

Stepping out into new territory, the squad was able to put together creative routines and new cheers for the season as well. "Although I know it was discouraging for them at times," said Coach Del Rio, "I was proud of what they did as a squad." Though not always out in the center of the spotlight, the cheerleading squad is responsible for much of the encouragement that goes toward the players; flips, jumps, high-kicks, and tumblers are not simply for entertainment, but for hopeful inspiration for the team.

And while the squad may have been under some tough times, members were able to overcome adversity and continue to cheer on and uplift team spirit all around. "They encouraged one another and made everything come together," Del Rio commented.

Men's Golf

The Trevecca Men's Golf team this year did exceptionally well throughout its fall and spring competitions with some great team scores from each player. Head coach Robbie Wilson reported the year's highlights: "This year was a very important year for TNU Golf. Having four seniors with many tournaments under their belts, we knew we would have the leadership we needed to be successful, and players with the determination to play good golf in their final season. Senior Joey Bradley led the team in scoring this season, averaging 73.04. His only win of the season came in the TranSouth Conference Tournament, his seventh career victory. Seniors William Potts, Skip Jones, and David Saldana all had solid years. Underclassmen Stephen Williams and Aaron Gaddis showed why they will be important parts of the program for the next two years. Each got better every tournament he played and that experience will help each man next year. Freshman Austin Dillard showed flashes of brilliance, and he will help lead this team for the next three years."

"This team is successful because of the way members work together on and off the course. Over the last few years we have volunteered for Habit for Humanity, The Shelby (benefitting Harris-Hillman School), and KidPower. I am very proud of all our guys and the hard work we put in all year. As we move into NCAA D-II, we have established our program to be a major player in recruiting locally and we should be able to jump right into our new conference and succeed right away."

Senior Joey Bradley (pictured above and below) finished with an outstanding season. Throughout the season, Bradley was named as the NCCAA Student Athlete of the Week three times, in addition to being named the TranSouth Athletic Conference Co-Men's Golfer of the Week twice this season. At the TranSouth Men's Golf Championships, Bradley finished with an unofficial best total in the tournament, and in an unofficial head-to-head playoff against Brett Barry, Bradley was able to win in the first hole.

Women's Golf

Although there were many challenges throughout this season, Trevecca's Lady Trojan golf team was able to see several significant highlights. Among the most notable was senior Ashley Scism's third individual Transouth Conference Championships win in the final tournament of her collegiate career. Scism leaves the program with more individual tournament wins than has any other Trevecca women's golfer.

The team, while struggling to achieve certain goals they had set for their play on the course, did shine in the classroom with Scism, Whitney Phillips and Maddie Privott being named as NAIA Scholar-Athletes (min. 3.5 GPA after sophomore year). With at least three key returning players and four new freshmen coming in next year, the Lady Trojans look forward to the 2012-13 season with great anticipation.

Trevecca women's golf had some great plays on the course this season.

Baseball

From the beginning of February to the end of April, the men of Trevecca's baseball team put their blood, sweat, and heart into the 2012 season. A total of 28 men formed the team with a strong number of 15 juniors to continue next year. Head coach Mike Lord, in his first season, and assistant coaches Luke Brown and Matt Thomas, in their second and third seasons respectively, did their best to train, prepare, and shape the team to reach its fullest potential this year. Although the guys fought with and were able to make some impressive comebacks throughout the season overall, they ended with an overall record of 19-22 and tied once in the second game against Union University. However, despite a tough end to the season in a close loss against Martin Methodist, the team proved its potential to turn around and produce greater victories next season. Overall, the players of the Trevecca men's baseball team put an exceptional amount of hard work, determination, perseverance, and strength, and created hopes for greater achievement for next year.

Softball

The Trevecca softball team came back this year looking for another amazing season after its previous success in the 2011 year, with 29 wins in 30 games in their regular season and a trip to the NAIA National Championship. This year, the team returned with a strong freshman and sophomore base ready to build a foundation to carry the team through the next four years; three juniors and four seniors made the team total 17 players. Led by head coach Ben Tyree in his fourth season of coaching and assistant coach Mike Pruitt in his third season, the team seemed to be headed for great success.

From February to April the women competed against more than 20 teams and colleges. They did an amazing job competing with some impressive victories and high-scoring games and were able to pull off some exciting comebacks in the second round of games. The women proved their determination, strength, and talent to be exceptionally good to qualify for the NCCAA Mid-East Regional, hosted in Georgia at the end of April. The softball girls have been known for their drive and strength on and off the field and have done an amazing job working together as a true team with Trevecca's Christian spirit.

Summer Ministry Teams

Having a mission ministry focus, Trevecca sees how important it is to reach out to youth and young adults for mentoring and influencing. Trevecca's Summer Ministry Teams serve this purpose. Trevecca students form teams that travel to youth camps, and youth group assemblies to minister and lead youth and young adults in worship and camp activities.

Briana Corzine, Ashley Hoffner (North Alabama counselor), Lauren Baker, and Hayden Coffman prepare for a paint war at the North Alabama Youth Camp.

Summer Ministry Team members Charly Hood, Kate Torres, Mica Massie, Dillion Jones, Wendy Chambers, and Jake Bachota traveled to South Florida camp and Tennessee camp where they ministered to youth groups and listened to Trevecca's Refuge group lead in worship.

One of the fun parts of serving at summer camps for Summer Ministry Teams and the PR groups is meeting new people. Parker Guthrie, a member of Refuge, recruits a future Trevecca student (very future).

Summer Ministry students Briana Corzine, Lauren Baker, Zack Bowling, Hayden Coffman also traveled to Central Florida camps and South Alabama camps.

At Central Florida the team participated in camp activities including flour sack wars. Summer Ministry Team members were also involved in tornado relief efforts at the South Alabama camp.

This year's RAs and RHA members enjoy RA /RHA Appreciation Week with dinner at Dan and Denise Boone's home.

Part of the fun of that dinner was being with friends.

RA and RHA

The Resident Hall Association (RHA) consists of residents from every residential area of Trevecca. Each residential area (dorms and apartments) has a council. Each council plans events for its dorm or apartment throughout the semester. These activities include service projects, spiritual and educational events, and social activities.

Resident Assistants (RAs) are teams of students within each living area on campus. They work under the resident directors (RDs) to help students adjust to dorm life. They host lobby and floor events throughout the year. Both of the councils to host campuswide events together. This year's events included a RHA Corn Maze at Shuckle's Corn Maze, a haunted house, and an Easter Egg Hunt.

TrevEchoes

TrevEchoes, Trevecca Nazarene University's official student newspaper, is published once a month by and for Trevecca's students. TrevEchoes' mission is to serve the Trevecca community by bringing it relevant, timely news about campus.

Each month TrevEchoes prints around 1,000 copies. TrevEchoes Online is also updated with breaking news around campus.

It has truly been a joy to serve the Trevecca community as TrevEchoes editor-in-chief this year. The staff and I have worked to produce a quality newspaper that I am very proud of.

MANDATE

This year, the Micah Mandate released its third print magazine. The theme of international justice flowed from cover to cover, highlighting the stories of cross-cultural activities and individuals' efforts around campus. We wanted to highlight work the Trevecca community is involved with across the globe, including stories on an English professor's efforts to fight sex trafficking in India, a student who spends her vacations volunteering at a Haitian orphanage, and multiple refugee students who live and study at Trevecca after fleeing their home country.

Every year students from all areas of university life piece together a magazine which helps tell the story of social justice. This year's team consisted of journalism, communications, worship arts, and English majors—all of which contributed to the overall production of the magazine.

Darda

The Darda staff has really been a great staff this year! As we have put the yearbook together, it has been a privilege getting to know the great photographers and section writers who have put together another year in the life of Trevecca Nazarene University.

Being editor has been a great experience with this new group of friends that I have made. As a senior, I find it hard to realize that I will not be with my staff after this year, but in light of our accomplishment of creating this yearbook, I hope that this Darda will remind everyone of the wonderful times we had together and the many lasting moments that we shared!

Thank you to all of my staff and our photographer, alumna Maia Zaykava, for all of your hard work and dedication to this book! It was a pleasure and honor serving with you all!

It's never boring. One day it's textbooks; the next is social life events, followed by athletics, construction, spiritual life, campus dining, clubs, open apartments, and university policies.

Actively representing the diversity of student interests, as SGA's mission statement says, takes several different shapes throughout the year. Each day brings a new set of tasks to accomplish, and it takes a dedicated group to get it all done.

It's exciting and sometimes exhausting. It's gratifying and sometimes strenuous. It's a privilege and sometimes it's just a pain... but one thing is for sure—it's never boring.

The Trevecca Jazz Band also includes student vocalists Carissa Shockley, Jordan Guthrie, and Chandelor Simon. Matt Murdock leads two Jazz Band combos, which showcase the musical talents of Jacob Thomas, Carissa Shockley, Andrew Riley, Ted Gajda, Jordan Guthrie, Andrew Michel, Tim Bergman, Zach King, Spencer Stevens, and Billy Blackman.

Trevecca's Jazz Band is comprised of many students. Jacob Thomas, Abby Merioles, Andrew Riley, Sarah Crane, Spencer Stephens, and Andrew Michel play woodwind instruments. Jordan Robertson, Anna Batten, Benton Quarles, Zach Foster, Jared Welden, Jill Springer, and Ben Frazier make up the brass section. Emily Brooker, Nick Huddleston, Ted Gajda, Philip Noel, and Cory Williams perform in the rhythm section of the Jazz Band. Directed by Matthew Murdock, these students perform historic jazz blue numbers and compositions.

Trevecca Bands

Trevecca has many opportunities for students to participate in music groups. Within the musical fine arts, Trevecca has several instrumental ensembles and bands, which include Commercial Band Ensemble, Guitar Ensemble, Jazz Band, Lab Band, Percussion Ensemble, Trevecca Symphony Orchestra, and Wind Ensemble.

The Trevecca Symphony Orchestra (TSO) performs with the Madrigalians at the Cathedral of Incarnation.

Trevecca choirs

Trevecca's musical talents reach far beyond instruments. With soulful voices, the Trevecca choirs sing out melodies of worship, acappella, and gospel.

The Madrigalians perform many times during the year at concerts and in churches. They also present two dinner shows each year which showcase their singing and acting skills.

Trevecca's Gospel Choir also performs throughout the year. The music of this group is Christian-contemporary, worship songs, spirituals, and gospel songs.

The Madrigalians present their Christmas Canteen in which they portray a Charlie Brown Christmas through acting and singing.

The Madrigalians introduced their wild side to the audience as they depicted Willy Wonka's Chocolate Factory during their spring semester dinner show.

Drama 2011

Godspell

Jeff Frame shared with us his view on the exciting fall musical Godspell, "According to Stephen Schwartz, Act One is about Jesus building a community of love among his disciples. In Act Two, Jesus is teaching his disciples to continue in this community of love and to take personal responsibility for Jesus' "good news" after He is taken away from them. As a Christian, I like to take Schwartz's prompts and run with them. I think the beautiful message of Godspell is found in the lyrics of Jesus during the song "God Save the People" when Jesus, played by T.J. Adams sings, "Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise, and songs be heard instead of sighs. God save the people." The character of Jesus spends most of the musical trying to teach the "song" of the Gospel to His followers via parables, revelations, and games. The response of the disciples in "On the Willows" at the end of the musical is one of confusion, "But how can we sing the Lord's song in a foreign land?" This is the key question the musical asks regarding each of us. The message of Godspell is the good news of Jesus Christ and our response of learning to sing the "song of Jesus" in a foreign land, a land that's filled with sighs."

The cast of Godspell sings enriching spiritual songs!

Spring 2012 Drama

Barefoot in the Park

Barefoot in the Park follows the lives of newlyweds Paul and Corie Bratter as they adjust to married life in a tiny NYC apartment. Paul is a lawyer who's wound a little too tight, and Corie is a vivacious free spirit determined to hold onto romantic bliss long after the honeymoon. Together they navigate the five-flight climb to their apartment, the hole in their skylight, the difficulties with neighbors and parents, and, most of all, the challenges of relationship when life gets a little more complicated.

Spring 2012 Drama

Jungal Book

The feature-length Jungal Book animated film by Disney introduced children all over the world to the rollicking adventures of Mowgli and his beastly buddies in the deep wilds of India. The stage adaptation of Kipling's original stories is an even more faithful rendering of the mancub's pivotal life lessons as he learns the Law of the Jungle from allies and enemies alike. Trevecca's production of Jungalbook is also designed for a distinctive blend of audience.

The piece was designed for mainstream family audiences and also specifically for persons on the autism spectrum. As a result, the production design, acting, and directing were uniquely tailored to meet the particular needs of adults and children on the autism spectrum while maintaining equal appeal to non-autistic audiences as well.

Refuge

The music ministry team Refuge is comprised of eight musically talented students. These Trevecca students travel throughout the summer to Nazarene youth camps spreading their testimonies through worship. This year's Refuge team included Parker Guthrie, Jordan Guthrie, Ted Gajda, Alan Showerman, Nick Schwarz, Bailey Bussell, Elise Sirois, and Aaron Fairchild.

Everpraise

The Everpraise singing group is another of Trevecca's musically talented students. They too travel throughout the summer to youth camps leading worship for teens and young adults. The 2011-2012 members of the Everpraise team are Curtis Nathan Curry, Nicholas J. Riley, Zach Shockley, Austin Heller, Brittany Green, Sarah Ravel, Erin Gardner, and J.R. Smith.

Peer Mentors

For the last four years, peer mentors have been helpers and leaders for the incoming freshmen. They actively engage in forming friendships which help many freshmen feel at home at Trevecca quicker.

This year's peer mentors participated in many activities including LEAP DAY, Adventure LEAP, and the annual Peer Mentor Christmas Party. As they look forward to next year, the peer mentors are excited to meet a new freshman class and have many more adventures.

Kayela Lynn Sharrett

On September 8, 1990, I saw an angel in my arms. You were absolutely beautiful, and I saw something that day that I had never seen before. I said, "This little one has a special gift about her." It was almost as if I could see a halo over you. You have been my angel your entire life, and I have never been so proud of you. I know that if EEM and Pappy were still alive, this day would be one of the happiest of their lives.

I know that they say you can never go back home again, but I saw differently. You will always have a bed wherever I am. I knew the day that you shared Miranda Lambert's song "The House that Built Me" that you would not be coming back home. I am only a phone call away though. Just remember the house that built you, sweetie. You will go far! Mom

Sissy, I can't believe my baby girl has grown up to be a beautiful young woman. It seems like only yesterday

I was changing you, and now you are about to be completely out on your own, doing the things that you want in life. I wish you the best of luck and Godspeed through everything that you set out to accomplish.
Brother

"For everything you have missed, you have gained something else, and for everything you gain, you lose something else." It is about your outlook toward life. You can either regret or rejoice. Live life to the fullest, climb that mountain, follow that river, and never look back. I am proud to be your father and will be with you always. Look to the sky, and when that cloud passes by, it will be me watching over you.
Dad

GREG BAGGETT

Uncle G, I am proud of you. One day I am going to Trevecca, and you can put a message in my yearbook!

Love, Addie TNU 2028

DAVID SALDANA

We're so proud of you, David. We love you, Dad, Mom, Sara, Kathy, Papaw and Memaw, and Poppa and Nana.

Jessica Atwood

Jessica, You are the greatest gift God ever gave us. We are very proud of you! Love, Mom and Dad

Katie Jeanelle Parrish

Katie,
the Lord blessed us with you.
We're so proud of you and love you very much.
Mom and Dad

Allison Lafoe

Allison, "But seek first His Kingdom..." You have done it, and we are all so proud of you!

Love, Mom & Dad, Granny &
Papaw, Nanny, Kevin & Bella,
Kim & Jacob & C.J.

"Boots" DeKemper

Andrew, we are proud of you and all of your hard work. We can't wait to see what God's plan is for you. Love, Alissa, Dad, Mom, and Alex

Jessica Page

Jesse, May God continue to bless and keep you. We are so proud of you. Love, Dad and Mom

Rebekah Dunn

Rebekah, Congratulations on your graduation! We are so proud of you! Love, Dad and Mom Jeremiah 29:11

Tanner Webb

Tanner, what a great four years . . . and such exciting things coming up. We are so very proud of you. Much love, Mom, Dad, and Danie

Dana Franchetti

Congratulations, Dana! Your family and Barney are proud of you. Love, Mom and Dad

Jared Welden

Congratulations, graduate! We have always been proud of you and how you have lived your life. We share your excitement to see where God leads you.

We love you so much, Mom, Dad, Lauren, Dylan, Papaw, and Grandma (from heaven)

Alisha Inman

In life, it's not as important how many hats we wear. Rather, the importance lies in how well we wear them. Wear your hat proudly, Alisha!!

CALEB SPENCER

Congratulations, Caleb! Dr. Dean Spencer of Northwest Physicians P.C. in Pennsylvania, proud supporter of Immerse

Sara Zellner

Congratulations, Sara!
You make us very proud, and we wish you every happiness.

The Never-Ending Cycle

In reflecting upon this past year, I am very thankful to have had the opportunity to serve as your yearbook editor. I am pleased to present to you this year's 2011-2012 Darda. I am also very grateful for all the hard work of the staff and faculty support which have made this possible.

As the final phase of this year's Darda yearbook is being completed. The next edition is already underway. A new editor has been selected and she is already making plans for next year's book. Just like the recycle symbol where one arrow stops and another begins, my chapter as editor ends as another chapter's begins.

Whether you are a freshman just starting at TNU, a sophomore, or a junior just trying to get through, or a senior moving on to life's next phase, what lies ahead can sometimes seem overwhelming or even fearful. God provides just the right words for your situation. Jeremiah 2:9-11 states,

"For I know the plans that I have for you, declares the LORD, plans of peace and not of evil, plans to give you a future and a hope."

All of us are part of God's magnificent plan. The recycle symbol can also remind us that God's plan is a never-ending one. As we participate in that plan the Serenity Prayer gives us good advice:

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change;
courage to change the things I can;
and wisdom to know the difference."

God Bless You All,

Betsy C. Harris, Editor-in-Chief

General Information

The 2012 Darda was printed by Herff Jones, Inc., who published 650 copies of this 180-page yearbook. Mary Harris was our representative.

Student and faculty photographs were taken by Maia Zaykova with the help of Betsy Harris. Candid photos were taken by the Darda staff, Maia Zaykova, and other contributors, including Kristin Frasca, Trevor Lubiens, and Melissa Jackson. All sports photos were taken by Greg Ruff and Ashley Hoffner. All of the copy for the yearbook was written by Darda staff writers Troy Mangrum, Breanna Wright, Sarah Suits, Laura Derstein, and Joshua Flatt, with the exception of the opening and closing copy, which was written by Betsy Harris. Some copy was submitted by coaches, students, and faculty in the Athletic section and in the Clubs and Organizations section. Prologue was written by Dan Boone. The Dedication was written by Jenny Copeland with the help of Judy Farrell. The spotlights in the People section were submitted by the students. All pages were produced using eDesign software through Herff Jones, Inc., and were proofread by yearbook sponsor Jan Greathouse.
